Keely's motor is a good deal like democratic reformers. It is always advertising itself as ready to start, but it never starts.

Garland was not at the wedding. He had some propriety about him. He didn't want to take the smell of the Pan-electric into the Blue Room.

General Sherman will soon go to New York to live. When the jolly general quits St. Louis, the last spark of life will be taken from that quiet city.

Mr. Blaine's speech on Home Rule in Ireland, is a speech that lords and commoners in London might read with profit. It is truthful, logical, frank, and very instructive.

The eruption of Mount Etna increases in violence, and all the inhabitants of the town of Nicolosi, at the foot of the mountain, have fled, in anticipation of its destruction by a flood of lava.

Twelve persons in Milwaukee have been imprisoned on the charge of boycotting and conspiracy. They will be tried, and Milwaukee proposes to vindicate its honor by punishing them.

Chief Engineer Eckel, of the Syracuse (N. Y.), fire department, whose term of office comprehends a quarter of a century, was killed at a fire Tuesday morning, by being run over by a hook and ladder truck.

The famous and powerful British man-of-war, Bellepheron, is at Halafax, but the British Admiralty office in London says that its presence there is a matter of no significance, and has nothing to do with the fishery question.

The president did a wise thing in getting married. The event should have taken place twenty-five years ago. But better late than never, and he is to be congratulated, especially because he has the best end of the bargain.

Central Texas is threatened with a plague of grasshoppers. The farmers of Milam, Williamson, Bell and Falls counties are thoroughly alarmed, and are holding meetings to devise measures for averting the destruction of their crops.

Andrew Caregie, of Allegheny, gave away, at one stroke of the pen, $250,000 for a free library in that city. It is not often that millionaires give away that much in one check, and it is to be regretted that Andrew Caregies are not more numerous.

Dr. J. M. Bowers, of San Francisco, poisoned his wife last year, for the purpose of securing $17,000 of life insurance. The scheme didn't work altogether. He was suspected of murder, arrested, tried and convicted, and has been sentenced to be hanged.

Some excitement in mining circles was caused two or three days ago by the discovery of a vein of hard specular iron ore one mile east of Negaunee, Michigan, Every foot of land in the vicinity of the find has been taken up by exploration parties. The showing is claimed to be very fine, and the owners are very much elated.

The acreage of the cotton growing states last year was 17,322,388 acres. The crop for the season was 5,774,665 bales equal to 2,742,966,011 pounds of lint or about 8,228,898,033 pounds of seed cotton. The great expense attached to cotton growing is the cost of picking. The lowest price paid for picking in any of the southern states is fifty cents per 100 pounds. As the crop amounted to 8,228,-898,933 pounds the cost of picking was $41,414,449.

There was a riot in Rockford on Monday night. Ten drunken men got into a fight in the rear of a saloon, and while the fight was in progress five officers made a raid. There was a hand-to-hand conflict between the drunken roughs and the policemen, and clubs, cans, sticks bottles and stools were used. Fifteen hundred spectators witnessed the row. It was the biggest and most exciting street row ever seen in that city. The parties were all arrested.

The Workingmen's central committee has called a state convention to be held at LaCrosse on the 13th of July, for the purpose of nominating an entire ticket of state officers. They suggest that caucuses be held in the respective wards, districts or counties, to name delegates to the convention, the basis of representation to be one delegate for every 500 votes cast in the district returning the same. They urge nominations in every city and county for every position, and especially for the state senate and house of representatives.

It is a question whether either party will be benefitted by the appointment of a congressional committee by each for the purpose of looking after the congressional districts, especially those that are close. The republicans of Wisconsin are as able to manage their own congressional matters as any committee that can be organized in Washington. They understand the temper of the people in their own districts better than anyone else, and are surer of making a successful campaign than a Washington committee. If the congressional committee is designed as a helper or an "advisory board", then it is all right; but if it is intended as a managing committee, then it is not all right.

Governor Rusk has revoked the commission of Theodore Rudzinski, of Milwaukee, as a notary public. In his letter of revokation, the governor says: "I am satisfied that the said Theodore Rudzinski is unworthy of the trust and confidence reposed in him, and that he is not a fit and proper person to perform the duties and functions of the office of a notary public." Rudzinski is the Polish alderman who, during the recent riots in Milwaukee, took sides with the rioters and presumed to assert his belief while addressing the governor. He has also been impeached by the board of aldermen. Mr. Rudzinski will soon begin to feel that the way of the riot inciter is hard.

The grand jury at Milwaukee found fifty-one true bills against the late rioters. Of the number indicted, the following are now under arrest, having been apprehended either on the day of the riot or shortly afterward: Paul Grottkau, Carl Simen, Frank Hirth, Anton Palm, John Protzmann, and Herman Lampel for conspiracy, and Charles Mansfeldt, Henry Gastle, Joseph Kujusobowski, Wm. Strehlow, John Runge, Anton Heibe, Albert Hœfer, Henry Dampf, Albert Piepenburg, Charles Bauer, John Gabrielsky, Ferdinand Loppnow, August Goetz for riot. There are thirty-one others indicted for riot and conspiracy who are not yet under arrest.

Recorder Smyth, at New York, yesterday, in sentencing Most, the convicted anarchist, and his associates, expressed deep regret that the law did not permit him to impose a heavier sentence. His crimes deserved the punishment awarded to capital offenders. He also told him he was the greatest scoundrel he had ever seen at that bar. Braunschweig, the recorder said, was almost equally guilty. Schenck, he thought, was a dupe of his companions, but he deserved publishment to warn him and others against following the teachings of such men as Most. Most was sentenced to the penitentiary for one year and fined $300. His associate, Braunschweig, got nine months in the penitentiary and was fined $250. Schenck was sent to the penitentiary for nine months, but not fined. None of the prisoners attempted to speak a word in court. They were taken back to the tombs, and this afternoon will be transferred to Blackwell's island.

People who are accustomed to envy the so-called millionaires of this country the fabulous wealth which gossip usually insists they possess, may be able to learn how foolish their envy very often is by referring to the case of Senator Miller. Although credited with several millions of dollars, the California senator's estate, when inventoried, showed a total valuation of something less than $200,000, not all of which could probably be realized at a forced sale were necessary. As human lives go Mr. Miller's was unusually successful and what he did amass was quite enough for any one man, although it was far below public estimate. There are quite a number of men in the senate whose wealth is no doubt over estimated, and some of them are there by virtue of their supposed wealth, and not because they are qualified to fill the offices they hold. But in Mr. Miller's case he was a good senator and a thoroughly good man, and deserved the honor that California bestowed upon him.

The Maine Democracy

BANGOR, Me., June 3.—The Democratic state convention here Wednesday was entirely harmonious. Col Clark S. Edwards was nominated for governor by acclamation. The platform calls for shorter hours of labor and for the preservation of the public lands, and demands protection of American fishermen. President Cleveland's administration is warmly commended. Resolutions favoring home rule were adopted.

The Diamond Record.

League games of baseball Wednesday were as follows: At Philadelphia—St. Louis 6, Philadelphia 8; at Boston—Chicago 9, Boston 0; at Washington—Detroit 6, Washington 4; at New York—Kansas City 3, New York 7. American association: At Baltimore—St. Louis 6, Baltimore 4; at Staten Island—Metropolitan 7, Louisville, 1; at Philadelphia—Athletic 1, Pittsburg 0; at Brooklyn—Cincinnati 6, Brooklyn 2.

The Racing Circuit.

NEW YORK, June 3.—Jerome park races Wednesday: Duke of Westmoreland won the ¾ mile, Buckstone the 1⅛ miles, Inspector B the 1¼ miles, Stonebuck the 1 1-16 miles, Edgefield the ¾ mile, and Reforee the 1⅝ miles hurdle.

CINCINNATI, June 3.—Wednesday the winners at Latonia course were: Hottentot 1 mile, Jambert ¾ mile, Billy Gilmore, mile heats, and Burr Oak 1⅛ miles hurdle.

Missouri Greenbackers.

SEDALIA, Mo., June 3.—The Greenback state convention met here Wednesday and nominated a state ticket. The resolutions favor unlimited coinage of gold and silver, equality of purchasing power between money issues of the country, and arbitration in labor disputes with capital; denounce anarchism and alien land holding. A resolution opposing fusion was voted down.

Parnellites to the Rescue.

LONDON, June 3.—The opinion is prevalent in the lobbies that the Parnellite members will prolong the home rule debate several days to enable Gladstone to strengthen his position.

[From a recent photograph.]

WASHINGTON CITY, June 3.—The marriage of Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, occurred here Wednesday night, and with it culminated what, until a few days ago, had for months previous been a matter of doubt, speculation and gossip throughout the entire length and breadth of the country. It was a great event, because of the exalted position of the groom—the chief magistrate of a nation of 60,000,000 of people, and because it was the first wedding of the kind that has ever occurred under the roof of the executive mansion. Yet, notwithstanding the exalted position of the president, and that the opportunity and occasion almost demanded a great and brilliant state wedding, the affair, in all its preparations, appointments, and surroundings was a quiet, homelike wedding.

THE WEDDING DAY

was ushered in with bright beautiful weather, and almost with the rising sun came the bride and her kin folk to the executive mansion, after their night journey from New York. The day at the mansion was a comparatively quiet one, when the importance of its closing events is considered. Of course there was considerable stir and activity and excitement on the part of those upon whom devolved the duties of final preparation for the wedding, but it is safe to say the president, although quite as active and industrious as any around the mansion, was the least excited of any. He was early in the library transacting official business. He directed that three private pension bill vetoes be sent to congress; had a conference by appointment with Senator Van Wyck; saw Secretaries Lamar and Fairchild about some interior and treasury department matters; had several short conferences with Dr. Sunderland about the details of the marriage service, and found time early in the afternoon to take a drive alone out in his landau.

THE GUESTS ASSEMBLE.

About 6:30 in the evening the bustle and excitement of preparation for the event began to transform itself into realization. The united guests—cabinet officers and their wives, who were not abiding in the mansion then began to arrive. They were at once shown to the state dinning room, where they divested themselves of their wraps, and then repaired to the blue room, where Miss Rose Elizabeth Cleveland and other relatives of the bride and groom, together with Dr. Sunderland, were waiting to receive them. The assembled guests, standing on the eastern and western sides of the oval-shaped blue room where the marriage ceremony took place, had for promptly at 7 o'clock the president with Miss Folsom leaning upon his arm came down stairs, entering through the northern doorway and advanced to the center of the room and there stood facing the back ground of palms, ferns and flowers on the southern end of the room. Dr. Sunderland assisted by the president's brother, the Rev. William Cleveland stood facing the bride and groom.

NAMES OF THE ELECT.

The invited guests were: Mrs. Folsom, mother of the bride; Rev. William Cleveland, the president's brother; Miss Cleveland and Mrs. Hoyt, the president's sisters; Thomas F. Bayard, secretary of state, and Miss Bayard; Daniel Manning, secretary of the treasury, and Mrs. Manning; William C. Endicott, secretary of war, and Mrs. Endicott; William C. Whitney, secretary of the navy, and Mrs. Whitney; William F. Vilas, the postmaster general, and Mrs. Vilas; L. Q. C. Lamar, secretary of the interior; Daniel S. Lamont, private secretary to the president, and Mrs. Lamont; Benjamin Folsom, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, of Seneca Falls, N. Y.; Mrs. Camden and Miss Huddleston, of Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Harmon, of Boston, Mass.—relatives of the bride; Miss Nelson, of New York, and Mrs. Bissell, of Buffalo, N. Y., the president's former law partner. Of these, Miss Bayard and Attorney General Garland, were not present at the wedding ceremony.

THE WEDDING CEREMONY.

Immediately after the entrance of the president and Miss Folsom Dr. Sunderland advanced and proceeded with the marriage ceremony as follows:

For as much as we are assembled to observe the holy rite of marriage it is needful that we should seek the blessing of the great God our father whose institution it is, and therefore I beseech you now to follow me with reverent hearts in prayer to him.

"Almighty and everlasting God the father of our spirits, the framer of our bodies, the giver of every good and perfect gift—Thou who canst see the end from the beginning, who knowest what is best for us Thy children and hast appointed the holy rite of marriage to be sacredly observed throughout all generations. Regard now we beseech Thee thy servant our chief magistrate. Endow him plenteously with Thy grace and fill him with wisdom to walk in Thy ordinances. Be very nigh to him in the midst of many cares and grave responsibilities. By day may Thy law direct him and Thy strength uphold him, and be Thou forever his arm and shield.

"And be graciously pleased to look down upon this Thy daughter, even as Thou didst favor the chosen Rebecca and many noble women that have adorned the world. May she indeed be a precious boon of God to her husband to cheer and help him continually—a woman gifted with the beauty of the Lord and shedding the sweet influence of a Christian life upon the nation in whose sight she is to dwell.

"Will Thou approve what we Thy servants come to do in Thy name by Thine authority under the laws of the land in which we live. And graciously assist them—this man and this woman, who are here to be united in the bonds of holy wedlock according to the institution of Thy words.

"Mercifully be pleased, Almighty God, to vouchsafe to each of them Thy grace that they may well and truly weigh the unfailing vows which they are now about to make to each other in the presence of this company and before Thee; and that they may be enabled hereafter at all times so to live together as to rejoice in the solemnization of this union with joy unspeakable and full of glory, through Jesus Christ, our Lord, amen."

A short address followed setting forth the gravity of the obligations taken upon themselves by man and wife, and then the usual questions were asked, the president responding to the same firmly "I do." Although the service was a good deal like that of the Episcopal church and about of the same length, it was noticeable that the question to Miss Folsom did not contain the phase "and obey." The ring having been placed upon Miss Folsom's finger by the president, Dr. Sunderland declared them man and wife, pronounced the benediction and Grover Cleveland had become a benedict.

CONGRATULATIONS AND SUPPER.

Congratulations were then in order, and Mrs. Folsom was the first to congratulate her daughter and son-in-law. Congratulations from other relatives and invited guests quickly followed, and the company, passing through the green room to the east room, engaged in pleasant and social conversation for some time, and then repaired to the family dining-room, the president and his bride leading the way to the supper table. At supper the president occupied his usual place on the north side of the table; his bride seated at his left, and their guests disposed about the table in a manner best calculated to promote free and unrestrained social conversation.

THE COSTUMES.

President Cleveland was attired in a full evening dress suit and wore a turn-down collar, a plain white lawn necktie, unmonilled shirt studs and cuff buttons to match.

The bride wore an enchanting wedding dress of ivory satin; amply garnished on the high corsage with India muslin crossed in Grecian folds and carried in exquisite falls of simplicity over the petticoats. The orange blossom garniture commencing upon the veil in a superb coronet, and was continued throughout the costume with artistic skill. Her veil of tulle completely enveloped her, falling to the edge of the petticoat in front, and extending the entire length of her full court train. Excepting the engagement ring, a sapphire with two diamonds and the simple wedding ring which the president placed upon her finger, the bride wore no jewelry whatever.

Mrs. Folsom wore a superb dress of violet satin with garniture in white faille and crystallized violet drops impendants everywhere.

Miss Cleveland's costume consisted of an exquisite dress—a combination of Nile green and Cameo pink duchesse satin with silver ornaments, low corsage garnished with pink roses, short sleeves and demi length gloves in light tan. She carried a fan of pink ostrich feathers.

Mrs. Manning's dress was of white satin flounced across the front with duchesse lace, trimmings finished with sea pearls, square neck and elbow sleeves. Diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Endicott wore satin with silver and white sapphire, draped in black chantilly lace. Red pompon in hair and diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Whitney wore a bodice of violet velvet with white satin and tulle skirts trimmed with violets. Diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Vilas's dress was light blue silk, with long train strewn with daisies of silver, front of crystal and point lace and pearl trimming. Low neck and elbow sleeves.

Mrs. Lamont wore an ivory tinted satin dress, demi train with a panel of crystal, and pearl on the left side of the skirt, square neck corsage edged with crystal and jet fringe, elbow sleeves and a beautiful corsage bouquet of jacqueminot roses.

THE GROOM'S GIFT.

President Cleveland's gift to his bride was an elegant diamond necklace, the stones being set in gold and extending all around the neck. A large number of presents have been received at the mansion. As soon as they arrived, however, they were quickly conveyed out of sight. The members of the cabinet gave individual wedding presents, some of which were quite elaborate, but in accordance with the special desire of the president, a list of the presents received will not be made public.

OFF FOR A SHORT TOUR.

Soon after partaking of their wedding supper the president and his bride were excused, and according to a prearranged plan quietly entered a carriage at the south entrance to the mansion, and were drawn to the K street crossing of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, where a special train was in waiting for them. They at once entered President Garrett's Boudoir car "Maryland," and the train at 9:50 p. m. moved off for Deer Park, where the president and his bride will remain for a week. During their stay at Deer Park they will occupy a cottage specially fitted up for their accommodation, near the Deer Park hotel.

Previous to leaving the city the president directed Col. Lamont to have all of the cut flowers used in decorating the mansion distributed among the city hospitals.

DECORATIONS—MUSIC—NOTES.

The decorations of the executive mansion with the exception of the blue room, where the marriage ceremony occurred, were similar to those used on occasions of state or private receptions. The work of decoration was done under the direction of Col. Wilson, superintendent of the public buildings and grounds. The novel features of the floral decorations were confined to the blue room. The windows at the southern and outer end of this oval-shaped room were banked with stately palms and ferns extending to the ceiling. In front of this imposing bank of green fifteen feet in height, and lower down, beautiful foliage plants were arranged, and at the base of this bower were banks of roses, white, yellow, pink and red azaleas, fuchsias, geraniums and heliotrope, all combined to make the bower a triumph of beauty and fragrance. On every side of the room the decorations were scarcely less elaborate. The mantel above the hearth, on the east side of the room was a solid bank of cut pansies in various colors in which the date of the wedding, "June 2, 1886," was written in letters of white flowers, surrounded by black pansies. The mantle on the west side of the room formed a solid bank of roses, dark and rich colored in the center, in which was the monogram "C.-F.," in white moss. The two large mirrors above the mantles were draped and festooned with garland of mixed roses; the door leading to the adjoining rooms were festooned with heavy garlands of roses in different colors, and above the corridor door was a scroll composed of flowers, in which was the motto "Epluribus Unum," in immortelles.

MAY HAPPINESS ABIDE

The main table decoration in the wedding supper room was a full rigged ship composed of pinks, centaurea, agana, delphiniums, roses, and pansies, bearing the name "Hymen." It rested upon a mirror which gave it the appearance of floating on a lake. Its shores were composed of different varieties of setoginellus and tiny pieces of coral, and the land was presented by a bank of jacqueminot roses. The ship, a three master, was flying on the mainmast, colors of the United States, while the other two carried white flags, with the monogram "C.-F." in gold.

The Marine band was early in attendance at the mansion, and at proper intervals discoursed suitable strains. When the president and Miss Folsom came down stairs and passed into the blue-room, the band, stationed in the outer corridor, filled the mansion with sweet strains from Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." Later, it rendered Wagner's bridal chorus and march from Lohengrin and other appropriate music. During the progress of the ceremony salutes were fired, bells were rung, and Professor Widdows played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," and other appropriate selections on the chimes of the Metropolitan church. A large number of people gathered in front of the executive mansion during the ceremony and while the wedding party were at supper. No precautions were taken to prevent their entrance to the grounds, and as they were quiet and orderly, no effort was made to exclude them from the premises.

TREASON IN THE PALACE-CAR.

Ye Enterprising Reporter Must Have His Fun—The First Curtain Lecture.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 3.—Public curiosity has even invaded the palace-car upon which the president and his bride seated themselves late Wednesday night for an hour's restful conversation after the ordeal of the day. At least, a coterie of ambitious but impudent newspaper men are gleefully wiring their journals what purports to be the bride's first curtain lecture. These treasonable young men claim that they bribed a Pullman porter to permit them to place a telephone in the car, where it was deftly concealed behind the rich drapery of the apartment, and connected by Edison's inductive with a receiver located in an office on Newspaper Row. Possibly these philistines of the press are not such piratical invaders of private rights as they pretend to be, and it is more than likely that the story with which they are burdening the wires is the product of their imaginations rather than of their ingenuity. Be this as it may, public curiosity must in some manner be satisfied, and no message president ever sent to congress or inaugural delivered from the portico of the capitol before an ocean of upturned faces was read with more avidity than this alleged maiden speech of Grover's bride is sure to be perused.

"Now, Grovey," the account says Mrs. Cleveland began after she had divested herself of some of her uncomfortable finery, put on her slippers and seated herself upon a cushion; "Now, Grovey, dear, there are some things I want to say to you at the very threshold of our married life. As my poor grandfather Folsom used to say, one understanding prevents two quarrels. I don't want my Grovey to think his little birdie presumptuous, but because I am young enough to be your daughter, and an innocent little maid from school (here the president coughed), and because you are a great man, commander of the army and navy, custodian of public papers, grand generalissimo of postmasters, lord high executioner of Republican officeholders——"

"No 'Mikado,' dear," interjected the president.

"Because you are all this, Grovey, dear," the young bride continued, "is no reason why your owney own should not address you frankly, is it Grover?"

"Certainly not, my child."

"There it is, the very first thing. I know you would say that, and that is one of the expressions I was just about to warn you against. I am not a child, so there. And I don't want to be called one, either. You used to call me a child when you dandled me on your knee—that was when you was papa's law partner and sheriff of Buffalo—but that time has passed, Mr. Cleveland. I am a woman, and I have traveled abroad, sir, and I don't wish you to call me a child. If you call me child you will advertise the disparity of our ages, and make people say that I married an old man for his public position. Because I didn't marry you for your money, nor your good looks, either, did I Grover?"

Here the president loosened his white tie, which Dan Lamont had drawn too tight about the executive neck the last thing before the ceremony, took a look at himself in the mirror and replied, with a laugh:

"I don't believe you did."

"No, Grover; I married you for yourself alone. And now that you have got that necktie off, I wish you would also remove your collar."

"What for?" the wondering president inquired.

"No matter what for. I think you should grant this my first request without conxing."

"But it is unreasonable, my dear; there is nothing about it in the civil war—I mean I don't understand why I should remove my collar."

"If I say I want you to won't that be sufficient?"

"Oh, yes, yes, said the president. And he removed his collar only to be met with another pose in the shape of a request to put it on again. This appeared whimsical, and the president chafed under the unreasonableness of the demand; but at length his good nature triumphed and with his left hand he grasped his collar at the middle, placed it at the back of his neck, scrooged his chin down upon his shirt front, half closed his eyes, elevated his upper lip, and in other ways put upon his face an expression of pain; then he worked the finger and thumb of his left hand about the button, suddenly relaxed his expression of torment, lifted his eyes toward the ceiling, brought both hands to his throat, opened his mouth, curled his under lip, put his fingers through a series of awkward struggles with the two ends of the collar and the slippery button, and contracted his brows and muttered something which neither Frank nor the telephone caught when the collar slipped off the button at the back of his neck. After a moment's pause he again grasped the refractory linen by its middle, ducked his chin still deeper into his shirt bosom, conquered the rear button for the second time, raised his eyes once more to the ceiling, struggled desperately with the two ends and the slippery button in front, panted for breath awhile and wiggled his head to and fro to take the stitch out of his neck as at last the collar rested securely in its place.

"Now, I hope you're satisfied," he said, rather shortly.

"Yes, I am, Grovy dear, and I love you better than ever before. I feel happier now, hubby. You don't know what a load of trouble you have lifted from your little wifey's heart."

"Trouble, load lifted—what do you mean, Frankie?"

"Why, Grover, the horrid newspapers used to say you always buttoned your collars before putting them on and then slipped them over your—your—your head, but now I know they were lying. How the wicked newspapers used to lie about you, anyway, didn't they, Grovey? I've been so unhappy thinking about this collar business, and the girls at school used to make fun of me, and say they would never, never marry a man who put his collars on that way. And I've even dreamed of seeing you with your collar just coming down over your ears and eyes like a hangman's noose (here the president winced) and it made me feel just awful. But now I know I shall sleep sweetly, because I see that you put your collar on just as any other man does. Oh, you splendid old Grover, you!"

Here there was a sound which the telephone failed to transmit intelligibly, but which one of the lady correspondents gathered about the telephone receiver blushingly said she recognized.

"There's another thing, Grover," Mrs. Cleveland resumed; "I hear that a good many brides come here to call on the president. Now, I shall insist upon being present when they are received. And as for those woman correspondents and literary females there the president lifted his finger warningly, apparently with sister Rose in his mind) I am going to hire a man whose business it shall be to set the dog on them. I'm not going to have a parcel of women prying into my husband's affairs, so I am not."

"And while we are having such a good talk, hubby dear——"

"You mean that you are," interrupted the President.

"While we are having such a nice talk," the late Miss Folsom continued, all unabashed, "suppose we lay our little plans to save some money. Let me see—your salary is $50,000 a year. That is $961.53 a week. How do I know? Why, because some of the girls at school figured it all out one day. We have no rent to pay, and I understand that Uncle Sam is to board us. Now, Grover, we must save some money for a rainy day, and I shall insist that all of our household and personal expenses pass through my hands. I want some authority, some responsibility, hubby, and you will have quite enough to attend to without bothering with the money."

Here the President yawned as if he were sleepy, but the young wife opened one of the windows for fresh air, and continued:

"In the morning I want you to telegraph the butler and tell him that hereafter no orders but mine are to be obeyed. And I want it distinctly understood that when Baby Bissell—how well I know that sly, double-chinned dog—I want it understood that when he comes down here from Buffalo he is to be searched before he can be admitted. That man can't sneak any rend bottles into my house when I am around. For, Grover, you are very fond of a table-spoonful of ten-year-old whisky, aren't you: Don't deny it, because I kept my eyes open when you were my papa's law partner, even if I was only a little girl."

Grover didn't deny it, but chuckled merrily to himself as he slyly glanced at a bottle on the dressing-table labeled "pomade."

"You'll stop working so late at your desk, too, won't you Grover? I think we had better issue orders that the doors of the White House be closed at 6 o'clock every evening. This Mr. Lamont doesn't need to spend as much of his time around here as he has been doing, either. I guess you can get along for an hour or two without 'Dan' at your beck. If he doesn't take a vacation before long he may work himself to death. And, besides, if you don't manage to do something without his assistance pretty soon people will say you don't know how to run an office, or appear in society, or get married without 'Dan's' help and guidance. I think we can get along without quite so much of 'Dan' hereafter. By the way, the next time I go to Europe, and return after a long visit, I'll expect you to be at the wharf to meet me in person, Mr. Cleveland, and not by the proxy of your hired man. Do you promise?"

"I do," the president replied, somewhat faintly.

"And do you promise not to stay out late o'nights, and to stop smoking cigars after supper, and to take me out riding every evening, and to let me control the money, the cook, and the butler, and never to growl about the dinners, and to always let me have my own way about household matters, and to never have any of that old Buffalo crowd loafing around here, and——"

"I promise," moaned the president, with another yawn.

"And may I depend upon your always loving me as much as you do now, Grover! Can I trust you?"

"Yes, my dear, you may bet your last dollar on me. Have I not frequently declared that a public office is a public trust?"

One more question, Grover, and one of great importance. Before our married life becomes any older I want you to tell me one thing. Look me in the eye, Grover, that I may read your soul. [Here the president shuddered so violently that the telephone receiver rattled.] This evening while sitting alone a few moments I picked up a newspaper and read that as I had not passed a civil service examination I could not legally become the president's wife. And the newspaper also said that even if the letter of the law could be strained and the civil service examination waived, I must be confirmed by the senate before I could really be your wife, and that my prospects there were very poor, a majority of the senators being Republicans, and—and—"

"Well, what was the rest of it?" thundered Grover, with his eyes flashing.

"I don't like to tell, but, if I must, the newspaper said that a majority of the senators were Republicans, and most of them old men, you know, and therefore so envious of you that they would not vote to confirm me."

"Oh, you silly little goose," said Grover. And then he exclaimed to her that this was more of the work of the mendacious press, and that he thought it was pretty well understood by this time that the senate had nothing to do with executive documents or executive wife-taking.

"Now I am indeed happy," exclaimed the impulsive young wife, "but what is that thing there behind the curtains?"

"Oh, that is nothing," replied the president, rising, "nothing but—what treason is this: A telephone travelling forty miles an hour?"

Then and there Grover uttered his first password in the presence of his bride, but no stranger ears heard his apology. The telephone was instantly torn out by its roots and thrown through an open window out upon the track.

NOTHING DONE BUT TALK.

Congress Puts All Hands at the Bellows for a Day.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 3.—Brown of Georgia spoke to the senate Wednesday in opposition to the bankruptcy bill, declaring it a good bill for creditors and lawyers. The Northern Pacific forfeiture bill was debated, Call saying that the road had 30,000,000 acres of land that should be forfeited. George said the road got 42,000,000 acres which, at the price the road got for its land would give it $168,000,000. The bill was laid aside and the railway land taxation bill taken up and debated until 5:30, when an executive session was held, after which the senate adjourned.

In the house conferees were appointed on the District appropriation bill, the house committee having non-concurred in some of the senate amendments. A bill was reported to legalize the incorporation of trades unions. Debate was then resumed on the oleomargarine bill, and the bill reported to the house, the only amendment made in committee being one making it necessary that the selling of "cloo" shall be done "knowingly" in cases where the tax is not paid, to make the seller amenable to the penalty for violation of the law. The house then adjourned.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected, and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free Trial Bottles of this Standard Remedy at F. Sherer & Co's Drug Store.

TAKEN BY SURPRISE.

UNFORESEEN RESULT OF A BALLOT BY THE KNIGHTS.

A Representative of the Enemies of Powderly Chosen for Member of the Executive Board—Comment on the Fact by Powderly and Others—Views of the Holy See—The Amalgamated.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 3.—The only business transacted Wednesday by the Knights of Labor convention about which any information could be obtained has occasioned a heap of talk. It was difficult, however, to get knights to tell what it was, but the fact did get out. The morning session was occupied by the election of the six additional members of the executive board, and three of them was chosen. Hugh Cavanagh, of Cincinnati, and W. H. Mollen, of Richmond, Va., being two of them. But the third man was the trouble. This was James E. Quinn, of New York, and the cause of the comment on his selection is the fact that he is a member of the New York Home club, a body organized inside of Assembly No. 49, the object of which is the ousting of Powderly and the election of one of the Home club leaders. The selection was a surprise to both the anti-Powderly men and the friends of the master workman, and the club people were correspondingly exultant.

Just after the election, Quinn, a delegate, said: "Although we thought they had discontinued their plotting, the Home club has again shown its hand. The object of the club is to centralize the power of the order in and about New York city, and conduct the affairs of the general assembly in their own interests, leaving Canada, the west and south, without representation on the executive board."

Another delegate, who takes a more hopeful view of the matter, said that he had no doubt that if the convention had regarded it as a case of the Home club against Powderly, Quinn would have been defeated. He looked upon it as a case of the trades unions against the Knights of Labor, inasmuch as Quinn is a prominent member of District Assembly 49 of New York, which has so long been in contention with the Cigar Makers union. Quinn's candidacy was bitterly opposed by Strasser and Gompers, of the Cigar Makers union, and for this reason he looks upon it as a triumph for the anti-trades union sentiment.

Mr. Powderly, in speaking of the affair in the evening, said: "All this talk about the schemes of the Home club is silly quibble. It is like holding a post mortem examination on a body that has been dead for four years. The Home club is dead and all efforts to resuscitate it will prove unavailing." All indications now point to a final adjournment early. Mr. Powderly says the work for which the convention was called, is about disposed of, and that he will leave here better satisfied with the result.

The knights hold a short afternoon session, beginning at 4 o'clock. What was done can not be learned, as everyone in attendance at the meeting positively refuses to divulge any of the proceedings.

The Amalgamated Association.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 3.—A communication from Master Workman Powderly, of the Knights of Labor, was received by the Amalgamated association Wednesday, the substance of which is a plea for the union of the two organizations—or rather the annexation of the association to the knights. It was referred to an appropriate committee and a fraternal answer sent back by President Wiehe. The proposition created no little sensation in the association camp.

Despite the denials of some officials it has been known for some time past the inroads of the Knights of Labor among iron workers has been regarded with some alarm by the Amalgamated association. There is still quite a number of mills standing out of the association and they have been threatening to go over to the Knights of Labor. It is understood that if the iron-workers go into the combination they will be given a representative on the general executive board, and will form the most important branch of the Knights of Labor. The only difference an adoption of the plan would make to the Amalgamated association would be, that before declaring a strike on the scale question, the highest authorities of the Knights of Labor would have to be consulted.

At the afternoon session of the association, each delegate reported the condition of his lodge and the state of his district, together with the sentiments of his constituents on the question of what wages shall be demanded during the scale year beginning July 1. These reports showed the workmen to be almost unanimous in favor of demanding the restoration of the wages of 1884, which were 10 per cent. higher than those paid since June 1, 1885. The wage committee will use their reports in formulating their demand to be presented to the manufacturers. The application of the sailors for readmission to the association was also discussed during the afternoon, but no action was taken.

The Holy See and the Knights.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 3.—The Catholic Mirror's special news from Rome embodies an abstract from an editorial published Thursday in The Moniteur de Rome, the semi-official organ of the pope, on the Knights of Labor in America. The article pays a high compliment to General Master Workman Powderly and terms him "a level-headed and sagacious leader." The Moniteur de Rome in its utterances plainly indicates that the Roman church is not opposed to the organization. The Mirror comments thus: "This news from Rome should put an end to the mischief-makers who are busying themselves by reporting that the Holy See has condemned or is about to condemn the Knights of Labor."

Clinton.

—Since my last, several of our townspeople have paid the great debt of nature. On Thursday, May 20th, Mrs. Hiram Cobb was buried; May 21st, Benjamin Fulkerson and Loren J. Griswold were interred; and on Monday, May 31st, Mr. Ole K. Natesta's funeral was held at his late residence, and at the Lutheran church. Mr. Natesta was born in Norway December 24, 1807; he settled in Clinton in July, 1838, and was the first Norwegian to settle in our town; had been a large and successful farmer, and no man in Clinton has been more highly respected, or enjoyed the confidence of his fellow-citizens in a greater degree. He leaves a wife and seven children.

—Decoration day was observed in a very quiet and orderly way on Sunday, the 30th, under the auspices of the Grand Army post. At 2 p. m. the procession was formed in front of the Congregational church, and a long line of carriages and footmen moved to the cemetery, where the ceremonies were held. The music was furnished by the band, and a quartette from the Congregational choir. Rev. S. D. Peet offered a very earnest, eloquent and appropriate prayer. Rev. B. F. Sanford gave us a most excellent address. The two daughters of Comrade Al. Baldwin, had appropriate recitations admirably rendered, and the young ladies dressed in white, with scarfs of red, white and blue, strewed flowers over the graves of our patriot dead.

—H. B. Colegrove and Mrs. Warner have new roofs on their houses. Too much hail made it necessary.

—Rev. Levi Parmley is supplying the Baptist pulpit until a pastor shall be found.

—Some of our farmers are plowing their barley fields that were beaten down by the recent hail storm, and either resowing or planting to corn.

—The Salvation army are now in full operation in Clinton, and their hall is packed with listeners every evening.

OLD RESIDENTS OF WISCONSIN.

The old residents who first settled Wisconsin and have watched it grow from a thinly populated territory into one of the most prosperous and progressive States of the Union are fast passing away. Every few days are printed accounts of the death of some village patriarch, whose tales of fights with the Indians and of hardships endured and overcome in earlier days have seemed to the rising generation like chapters in ancient history. To those who still remain all honor is due. They will not be with us long, but while they yet tarry their experience and advice should be heeded. Samuel Barstow, of Lancaster, Wis., is one of these old residents and is well known, not only in the State, but beyond its borders as well. In recounting some of his experiences recently he said:

"I have suffered more or less from rheumatism and general debility for a number of years. For the last year the trouble has constantly increased and for a month I could not dress myself or get up from my chair without help. From my head to my feet every cord and muscle was stiff and sore. During this time I used various remedies, but all to no purpose, and continued to get worse. My attention was called to Athlophoros. I procured a bottle and on the 22d of January, 1884, began to use it. I took five doses and then slept easily until eight o'clock in the morning. I then got up and dressed myself and walked out without a cane. I was astonished at the result and could hardly realize that the medicine had produced such an effect. I am getting to be an old man—I am now seventy-two years old—and I don't suppose that it will make me a young man, but it will help the lamp of life to burn down calmly."

Mrs. R. F. Bowers, of Racine, Wis., is well known in that city as one of the old residents, she having lived there thirty-seven years. Her present address is 535 State street. She has this to say:

"I have been troubled with rheumatism for the last three years. I did not suffer as much pain as some do with the same complaint, my difficulty being principally stiffness of the joints. The trouble was mostly in my knee joints, and it was with much difficulty that I could bend them, especially in going up and down stairs. During the time I was troubled in this way I tried many medicines without any good effects. Athlophoros came to my notice, and being anxious to get some relief I thought I would try it. After using it for a short time I was able to bend my knees easily and could go up or down stairs.

Mrs. T. B. Neff, of Calamine, Wis., who has herself been benefited by taking Athlophoros for her rheumatism, tells an interesting story of the improvement wrought in her brother-in-law, Mr. John W. Neff, of Calamine, an old gentleman of seventy-five years. She says:

"When he got the first bottle of Athlophoros, which I sent for for him, he was so badly off with rheumatism and had been for nearly a year that he could not step without two crutches. It took two or three men to help him out of a wagon or sleigh, and he could not dress or undress himself alone. He had paid out a great many dollars for remedies. He took eighteen bottles of Athlophoros, and now he can walk three-quarters of a mile with just one cane, and can hoe in the garden and chop wood."

If you cannot obtain [illegible] of your druggist, we will send [illegible] paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy [illegible] your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be [illegible] try something else, but order [illegible] as directed.

Shopiere.

—Miss Emma Gardner, of Emerald Grove, is visiting with her aunt, Mrs. E. J. Dole.

—The address of the jotter is box 100, instead of 50. Please remember the change for these are changeable times under this new administration.

—Rev. and Mrs. T. S. Oadams wish to express their thanks to the ladies of the Congregational society for the beautiful baby carriage recently presented to their baby girl.

—W. H. Stark is adding improvements to his house in building new and putting away the old part.

—Rev. Samuel Plantz and wife, of the Methodist church, at Detroit, Michigan, who are now visiting at Emerald Grove, came over Sunday to attend Decoration day exercises.

—The postoffice war is over and the democrats (or their representatives) have the field. No one is killed or hurt, our we somewhat fear the effects of a full meal on the stomach that has been empty for twenty-five years. Tuesday morning Hiram Haines, lately appointed post master in our village, took possession of the postoffice and removed it to the store of O. P. Brunson. Mr. Haines gave us our first democratic receipt with a democratic smoke included for which we are much obliged.

—Last Sabbath a large audience gathered at the Congregational church to listen to an address by Rev. T. S. Oadams, and to honor the dead soldiers by decorating their graves. Mr. Oadams took for his subject, "Past History, our present Obligations," and gave one of his most interesting addresses. Appropriate music was rendered by the choir, and the closing piece by Miss Myrtie Sweet, entitled "Sleeping for the flag", was rendered so effective that it brought the silent tear to many a moistened eye. After the benediction by Rev. Samuel Plantz, the veterans under command of Major Charles W. Stark, who acted as marshal of the day, marched out of the church and with the children bearing the flowers formed a line of procession and marched to the cemetery. After decorating the graves of each soldier, Rev. H. G. McArthur made a few very appropriate remarks, endorsing what had been said, and giving his experience in the hospitals, under the auspices of the Christian Commission. Delegations were sent to Turtleville to decorate the graves of two soldiers there, and to Mr. James Haggart's, to decorate the grave of his brother, who is buried in the private grounds of the family. There are thirteen soldiers buried in the Shopiere cemetery, which makes sixteen in all which are decorated every year in our community. There was a large delegation from Emerald Grove present, and we noticed the faces of many strangers from a distance, who had come to assist in doing honor to the memory of those who died in the great struggle for freedom.

—The members of the G. A. R. and veterans of Shopiere, desire to tender their thanks to Rev. T. S. Oadams, for his interesting and patriotic address on Decoration day, and also to Rev. H. G. McArthur and Rev. Samuel Plantz, for assistance rendered in the exercises; also, to the ladies who contributed flowers, and the children who assisted in the decoration exercises. We also desire to express our appreciation of the large attendance, and wish to tender our thanks to the Congregational society for the use of their house.

By order of the Members of the G. A. R. and veterans of Shopiere.

A MARVELOUS CURE.

A Pure Malt Whiskey the Only Cure For Consumption.

It has become the settled practice of all physicians, of all dispensing druggists, to administer pure, unadulterated whiskey for CONSUMPTION, and Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has become the recognized and unquestioned specific for the CURE of this dreaded disease. The subjoined testimonials bear witness to its undoubted efficacy.

304 Madison Ave., Baltimore, Md.
"GENTLEMEN:—I had a patient in the last stages of consumption who, when food or medicine was given would vomit it. I had given her various remedies, but all were expelled, and she received nutriment only by enema and inunction of Cod Liver Oil, which were exceedingly disagreeable to her. I had a bottle of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, I administered a teaspoonful which was not vomited. The second dose, with a little meat juice was retained. Within a week she was able to eat heartily. All this after her family had assembled to see her die. I am convinced that it is not only free from fusel oil, but not in any way adulterated." FLORA A. BREWSTER, M. D. Baltimore, Md., May 3, 1885.

"GENTLEMEN:—I was suddenly stricken with a severe hemorrhage, losing about one gallon of blood at the first attack, and large quantities frequently thereafter. My case was considered hopeless; my friends arranged for my funeral. I was removed to the Hebrew Hospital, and was there ordered by my physician to use Cod Liver Oil and Whiskey. On advice the whiskey I used was your Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I discarded the oil using only the whiskey. I feel I owe my life to its purity, and earnestly recommend it for pulmonary complaints or hemorrhages."
SOLOMON WEIL.
60 N. Central Ave., Baltimore, Md., July 25, 1885.

"GENTLEMEN:—I have been ill; my friends all thought I would die of consumption. I was so sick and weak that they had to hold me up to give me your Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. My doctor told them to give it, and then I began to improve. I shall use it while I can get it."
MRS. ANNIE GRIMES.
533 Master St., Phila., Pa., Nov. 5, 1885.

"DEAR SIRS:—My daughter had been in delicate health. Her mother died of consumption. The doctor said she would not live. I used your Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and consumption cure in her case. The doctor died of consumption himself; she is now sixteen and is strong and hearty." JOHN PFLUGFELDER.

One of the best known Sisters of Charity in the United States, writes:
Rochester, N. Y., Home of Industry, Nov. 3, 1885.
"GENTLEMEN:—It gives me great pleasure to recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which I have used with great satisfaction in consumption; in the last stages of that dread disease. The patient can retain it when all other remedies fail. I recommend it to all." MOTHER SUPERIOR HIERONYMO.

Albany.

—The fishing question is just now agitating the public mind. In fact society would be out of its element were it not for these exciting and momentuous questions to give life and vigor to the gossip of the day. That American interests on the seaboard are in jeopardy may be inferred from the recent seizures of American coasting vessels. Canada may be a little over zealous because of the successful hauls of the Yankee fishing smacks, which no doubt has tended to depress the fish market. Think of selling pollock at 1½c per pound! O, ye shades of little fishes! However, opinions differ respecting the rights of our fishermen under the treaties with Great Britain. By the treaty of 1818 the United States made concessions as debasing as the High Joint Commission of 1877, which mulcted the government out of five and a half million dollars. The difficulty of keeping without the shore line, or three miles away from the Canadian shores, in contending with the elements, winds and fogs, is obvious to anyone acquainted with the coast. Fish are being sold too low. Hence the necessity of England ordering her men-of-war into those waters to act as a menace to the invading Yankee tars. The lion is aroused, as it were,—he shakes his mane, and his roar is heard from Maine to Nova Scotia. But then, the American Eagle is a soaring bird, with piercing eyes—not the baldhead kind—but with noble crest and Roman beak, and talons grown a century past. His eye is on the coast, and when danger threatens, flaps his broad wings and flies from crag to crag, and mountain peak, and all the eaglets swarm at the warning call. No doubt it would be more commendable to submit the matter to a board of arbitration. We are ahead on the Alabama claims. It would certainly be advisable to try another high joint than loose the dogs of war at present. If the old tubs which constitute our present coast defense have become leaky and worm eaten, let the river and harbor appropriations be indefinitely postponed until the nation is represented with a respectable and formidable navy to command the entrance to all our ports, and also to command the the respect of intruding and venturesome neighbors. If American steamships are too high toned to carry foreign mails, why not yield a point in favor of allowing the condemned and unseaworthy craft lying idle in our ports to compete with the same class now doing business for Uncle Sam, and thus utilize what otherwise must go into premature decay? Let Americans be truly American.

CLAYTE CLAXTON.

—Albany stands in need of a foundry and machine shop. Parties desirous of opening up in this branch of business, would do well to take a look over our little city. The investment would pay handsomely.

—Saturday will be the big day for the occasion of the 4th.

—Several transfers of real estate have recently taken place. Prices have not taken a big boom as yet, but an advance is likely to occur soon, with the present demand. "The early bird catches the worm."

—The steamer Mikado will make regular trips to and from the parks on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays of each week, at 9 a. m. and 2 p. m. each day. The steamer will be at the service of excursionists on other days of the week if desired.

—Decoration day was observed at Albany on Saturday, the 30th ult., with the usual imposing and impressive ceremonies. Appropriate services at the M. E. church at 2 p. m., were largely attended. Delegations from neighboring posts were present, and took position in line of march with the home post.

—Mr. C. F. Banks, of Rockford, Ill. accompanied by his wife, passed the Sabbath with parents, at his former home in Albany.

—Mr. John Lemmel, made a sale on the 27th inst., of business lot on southeast corner of Main and Water streets to Mr. Sanford Flint, proprietor of the Central house, consideration $2,000. Extended improvements are anticipated in connection with the Central.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Warren, visited Chicago the fore part of last week. They were the guests of Supt. Geo. O. Clinton of the Saint Paul, while in the city.

—Samuel Mitchell has a force of men at work on Water street, moving buildings and breaking ground for a new hotel and boarding house to be completed the latter part of August. The hotel will be located just south of the Central.

—A pretty heavy weight for the new comer, which came to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brandt, on the 21st inst. The little cherub kicked the beam at 17 pounds. The family reside about 9 miles from this place. All doing well at last accounts.

—Mr. Spencer Hulburt, a prominent merchant of Waterville, Kansas, paid old time friends, of this place, a pleasant visit on Thursday of last week, remaining until Monday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Bartlett.

—The supper given by the ladies of the M. E. church, at Opera hall, on Saturday evening, May 22d, netted $48.

—Fine prospect for an abundant crop of strawberries in this section.

—The Albany woolen mills are crowded to their utmost capacity. An extension to the mills is much needed.

—Mr. B. J. Sutherland and wife, of Monroe, Wis., were the guests of Mr. Wm. Webb part of last week. They go from here direct to Florence, Alabama, to take possession of their plantation, a late purchase, embracing 623 acres, well improved.

—L. W. P. Moreton, lately purchased lots on Union street, east side, near the depot, and will erect a fine residence.

—The Green County Soldiers' reunion will be held June 23, 24 and 25, at Brodhead, Wis. Every effort is being put forth to make the forthcoming reunion the most enjoyable of any one ever held in Green county. The good people of Brodhead will extend a hearty welcome to the tried and true old veterans of the war, their wives, sisters, cousins and aunts—a royal, hearty welcome to each and all. Tents will be provided for all who may desire to go into camp. Jerry will be there.

Milton.

—The result of the suit of the St. Paul Railroad company, vs. Goodrich, gives general satisfaction here, for the reason that it confirms the company's title to the land in question, thereby preventing Goodrich from dispossessing the business men now using a portion of the lands in question as he has threatened to do. The ejection of Messrs. Anderson and Green from the land now occupied by them, would force them to go out of business, and thus destroy about the only enterprise in town, aside from the college, that draw trade here and builds up the village. The claim that the public have lost their title to the public square by this decision need frighten no one, the title being as good now as it ever was, and we think no one will be unwise enough to attempt to disturb their claim to ownership.

—E. S. Babcock recently lowered and raised the liberty pole on the public square, under the direction of a few of the south siders. The pole was lengthened out, the equine monstrosity that had so long disfigured it removed, and a tasty arrow and ball put on in its place. With a new wire rope it is now possible, for the first time since the pole was put up, to float the stars and stripes therefrom without half masting the old flag. The few citizens who did the job are entitled to the thanks of our village.

—Eli Ayers and wife, of Walworth, are visiting Milton relatives.

—Memorial Day was appropriately observed here, and the weather, for the first time in many years, was pleasant. The services were held on the square, and when the hour arrived nearly one thousand people were gathered about the stand, making a larger audience than has ever assembled here on any similar occasion. The people of Milton Junction participated and were present en-masse. At the conclusion of the literary exercises a procession, headed by the band, was formed, composed of the cadets, ladies from the college, Womens' Relief corps, G. A. R. post, pupils of the Graded schools of Milton Junction, and the general public, and marched to the cemetery. After appropriate ceremonies there, the procession went to the Junction cemetery. The procession was nearly a half mile in length.

Don't Give it up so.

"Oh! if I had only known that in time" Known what? "Known that a simple cold in the head may develop into chronic catarrh." Well, it isn't too late, for Ely's Cream Balm will cure catarrh, even after the sufferer's life has become a burden to him, and he a nuisance to his friends. It is the only radical and thoroughly scientific catarrh cure known. Not a snuff. Not a liquid. 50c.

A Novel Feature in Investments

The whole country, after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation that can make a better showing now than before the crisis, attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors, and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost amongst the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000, First Mortgage six per cent 10-year bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the farmer as well as the banker, the clerk and mechanic as well as the millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in one and five dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 gold bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the company's office, at 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the bond being payable to the company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the company give as a bonus, free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1,000 bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock free. The bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of bonds will be invested in cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—The N. Y. Financier.

SKIN TORTURES AND BLOOD HUMORS!!

Humiliating Eruptions, Itching and Burning Skin Tortures, Loathsome Sores and every species of Itching, Scaly, Pimply, Inherited Scrofulous and Contagious diseases of the Blood, Skin, and Scalp, with loss of Hair, from infancy to old age are positively cured by Cuticura, the great Skin Cure, and Cuticura Soap, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally, and Cuticura Resolvent, the new Blood Purifier, internally.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I have been afflicted since last March with a Skin disease the doctors called Eczema. My face was covered with scabs and sores, and the itching and burning were almost unbearable. Seeing your Cuticura Remedies so highly recommended, concluded to give them a trial, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally, and Resolvent internally, for four months. I call myself cured, in gratitude for which I make this public statement.
Mrs. CLARA A. FREDERICK,
Broad Brook, Conn.

SCALP, FACE, EARS AND NECK.

I was afflicted with Eczema on the Scalp Face, Ears and Neck, which the druggist where I got your remedies, pronounced one of the worst cases that had come under his notice! He advised me to try your Cuticura Remedies, and after five days my scalp and part of my face were entirely cured, and I hope in another week to have my ears, neck, and the other part of my face cured.
HERMAN SLADE
120 E. 4th street, New York.

ITCHING DISEASES CURED.

Cuticura stands at the head of its class, especially is this the case with Cuticura Soap. Have had an unusually good sale this summer, owing to the prevalance of an aggravated form of Itch through some localities in the country, in which the Cuticura Remedies proved satisfactory. W. L. HARDING, druggist.
Uniontown, Ky.

CURE IN EVERY CASE.

Your Cuticura Remedies outsell all other medicines I keep for skin diseases. My customers and patients say they have effected a cure in every instance, where other remedies have failed. H. W. BROCKWAY, M. D.
Franklin Falls, N. H.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

BEAUTIFY the Complexion and Skin by using the Cuticura Soap.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than catarrh. The sense of smell or taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into the hands competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cure has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffling and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and Improved Inhaler; price $1.

—Did you go to the wedding?

—The case of Tuckwood against Hanthorn is still on trial in the circuit court.

—There was a white frost last night but little damage was done to crops.

—Janesville Chapter No. 55, R. A. M., assemble in regular semi-monthly convocation this evening at Masonic hall.

—The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Rowen will be held at her late home in the third ward, to-morrow morning at ten o'clock.

—The front of Mr. John Griffiths hardware store is coming down piece by piece and will be replaced by a new one of red pressed brick.

—Mrs. Silas Hayner, of the first ward, had the misfortune yesterday to break one of the bones of her right hand by the falling of a window. She will be deprived of the use of her hand for a month or more.

—The following persons have been elected as delegates to represent the Janesville Associated Charities at the United States Conference of Charities and Prison Reforms, to be held at St. Paul in July: Mrs. F. F. Stevens, Mrs. Harriet McKey, Mrs. E. A. Rich, Mrs. E. D. Tallman, Mrs. John Winans, Mrs. H. S. Woodruff, Mrs. J. B. Doe. The session begins July 13th.

—The Janesville Prohibition club held a meeting in the hall of the Independent Order of Good Templars, in the Court Street church block, last evening. There was a very fair attendance, and a very interesting programme was presented. One of the principal features of the evening was a speech by L. P. Frost. The discourse was of much interest to prohibitionists, and showed much care and research. A committee was appointed, consisting of James Harris, H. W. Perrigo and J. W. Warren, to arrange a programme to be presented at the next meeting, Wednesday, July 7th.

—The funeral of the late Richard Shepherd was held at ten o'clock this morning from the residence of Mrs. William Hemmens, 29 Ann street, second ward. The services were conducted by the Rev. Joseph Waite, of All Souls church, and his remarks were listened to by a very large number of friends of the deceased, who had assembled to pay their last respects to the departed. The music was beautifully rendered by a quartet consisting of Mrs. A. P. Prichard, Mrs. C. E. Church, Messrs. C. E. Church and John G. Saxe. At the conclusion of the services the remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment, the pallbearers being Messrs. Fred Clemons, Charles Drummond, Henry Sykes, R. W. King, Arnold Caunil, Henry Tall.

—The Mattie Vickers' Comedy company will appear at the opera house on Monday evening, presenting "Jacquine; or Paste and Diamonds." The Detroit Free Press: "Miss Mattie Vickers is unaffectedly fresh and buoyant. She seems to love her work, and to put her whole heart and soul into it. She has a demonstrative personality, and she knows how to exercise it. She has a style of her own, a novelty in her method and manner, quite distinct from any other artist in her special line. She never misses a point in the words she has to utter, whether humorous or pathetic. She can also deliver little bits of sentiments with exquisite tenderness. Her dancing is really inspiring; we have not seen anything so full of animation and graceful ease. Criticism of the drama is unthought of in the presence of so strong and fascinating an individuality.

ALLURED BY WINE.

Janesville Young Ladies in Chicago.

Under this head the Chicago News speaks at length upon intemperance among women, in the course of the article said says: "The girls and young ladies who drop in occasionally with their escorts to drink in the more pretentious resorts are, for the most part, well dressed and well behaved. Some are girls who are still at school. Some are living in idleness in comfortable homes. Many are from the vast number of those who are employed in stores, offices, or at other work during the day, and some come in from the country. There are girls living in the suburbs, even in saintly Evanston, and in towns as far out as Janesville and Rockford, who come into the city occasionally expressly to have a 'lark,' a 'time,' or whatever else it may be best to call it.

A few months ago two girls from Janesville, Wis., came to Chicago under pretense of visiting a friend. They did not go near their friend's house, but were on a continual "spree" for two days and nights with two strange young men whose acquaintance they made on the street."

Knights at Rockford.

The party of Knights of Pythias spoken of in the Gazette yesterday, returned from Rockford this morning. The Knights, twenty-seven strong, went in fatigue uniform. Upon arriving at the "Forest City" they were met by a drum corps and a delegation from Arthur Lodge, No. 31, and were escorted by them to the lodge room. A supper was provided before the evening's work was commenced, and later in the evening an elegant banquet was served at the Holland house. Speeches were made by several prominent Rockford gentlemen and by Ogden H. Fethers, W. T. Vankirk, T. T. Croft, M. G. Jeffris and C. E Pierce, of this city, and B. M. Malone, of Beloit. Those who went down from this city speak highly of the reception they received and now only wait for a chance to reciprocate.

Municipal Court.

Charles Hammond, of East Milwaukee street, was arrested last night for creating a disturbance. He was drunk, and was using his fists upon his wife in a way that drew loud screams from that individual. This afternoon he came up before Judge Patten, but as he was not yet sobered off, the case was continued until to-morrow.

The motion for a new trial in the case of the state against Everett G. Phelps has been overruled. Yesterday afternoon Judge Patten sentenced the young man to pay a fine of fifty dollars and costs, amounting in all to about two hundred and thirty dollars or to be imprisoned for sixty days in the county jail.

WATER WORKS.

An Interview with a Representative of the Holly Works.

The board of water commissioners spent last evening at their rooms with Mr. F. W. Holly, of the Holly manufacturing company, located at Lockport, New York. This old and reliable company sustain the same relation to the water supply systems of the country that (Edison does to the electric light.) The interview last evening disclosed the fact that Mr. Holly is not only thoroughly familiar with the Holly water works system, but equally so with all other systems, and the board of commissioners received some useful information, "Direct pressure" is considered by the Holly people as the most practical, and this system is gaining ground in public favor. The first "direct pressure" plant was established at Lockport, New York, in 1863, under patents brought out by the Holly company. In this first enterprise, as well as during all subsequent ones during the life of their patents, they were bitterly opposed by advocates of the stand pipe and reservoir systems. Since the year 1881, when their patents expired, Mr. Holly states that nine-tenths of all the plants established, are direct pressure. More than three hundred cities in this country are to-day supplied by this system. While the Holly company are strong advocates of "direct pressure," they are equally competent to handle either the reservoir or stand pipe systems. Regarding a reservoir supply for Janesville, Mr. Holly suggested that the very serious objection that the elevation of 256 feet necessary, with the long distance for pumping against a heavy pressure, would require an expensive plant to establish, and equally expensive to maintain. Of the stand pipe system, he said that experience was demonstrating that while this system was adequate and satisfactory for domestic and ordinary supply, yet for fire purposes it was subjected to a great deal of unfavorable criticism, and for the reason that the supply of water usually stored in a stand pipe reservoir was not sufficient for an emergency. Janesville would require a stand pipe about 20 feet in diameter, with an elevation of 225 feet. Mr. Holly claimed that a reservoir of these dimensions containing 135 feet of water would supply the city for ordinary purposes, while in an emergency 200 feet of water would be required.

A pumping station with capacity of 2,000,000 gallons per day would furnish a stand pipe with one foot of water every four minutes. It will be readily seen that much valuable time would be lost in raising water from the minimum height to a point sufficient to meet the demands of an emergency.

Mr. Holly claims that another great advantage of the direct pressure system is the constant supply of pure, live water. He further suggests that the source of supply should be governed by the advantages and necessities of the surroundings. Where good springs are available with an abundant supply of pure water artesian wells are not a necessity, but where such supply is not practical the artesian well is indespensible and experience demonstrates that the supply from this source is usually ample and every way satisfactoy.

Regarding the power to be used, Mr. Holly stated that in his judgment first water power in Janesville would be reliable and the most economical for nine months of the year, while steam would probably be necessary for the balance of the year.

The Holly company furnish plans and specifications to cities interested in building water works without charge, and would extend this courtesy to Janesville if desired. These estimates include service mains of not less than 6 and 16, with 20 inch mains if necessary.

The Holly company represent age, stability, and an enviable reputation, and the interview last evening with their representative furnished the board of commissioners with some valuable hints and information. Mr. Holly went to Green Bay this noon.

OUT AFTER MONEY.

The Gentlemen Who Have the New Bridge in Charge are Hard at Work.

To-day a subscription paper is being circulated and almost four hundred dollars has already been secured. The paper is as follows: "For the purpose of erecting a bridge across Rock river from North Fourth street on the easterly side of said river to lot 26 in Smith and Bailey's addition to Janesville on the westerly side of said river, we the subscribers hereto do severally subscribe and agree to pay to J. J. R. Pease the several sums of money set down by us opposite our respective names as hereto subscribed, all of the said money to be paid on or before July 10th, 1886. It is mutually understood by and between the subscribers hereto that the said J. J. R. Pease, John Gateley, John Thoroughgood, Carlos Brown, R. J. Richardson and Chester Bailey, shall act as a committee to superintend the erection of said bridge, and expenditure of such moneys and we hereby authorize the said committees to expend such moneys for such purpose and to appoint such committees officers and agents and confer upon them such authority to that end as they may see fit; and said committee shall upon the completion of said bridge make and publish a statement of moneys received and expended for the information of the subscribers hereto."

JUNE.

Mansill, the Rock Island meteorologists, makes the following forecasts for June in his Planetary Storm and Signal for June:—

Mercury in longitudinal line with Uranus, 2d, in a similar line with Jupiter, 3d, and in a like line with Mars, 14th; Mercury in descending node, 14th, and in aphelion, 24th; sun in apogee, 23; Saturn in conjunction with the sun, 3d; Mars in descending node, 19th.

The principal planetary storm and earth disturbing dates for July are located about the 1st to 3d, 6th to 9th, 14th and 15th, 18th and 19th, 24th, and 29th to 31st, or as follows:

1st to 3d—Thursday to Saturday.
6th to 9th—Tuesday to Friday.
14th and 15th—Wednesday and Thursday.
18th and 19th—Sunday and Monday.
24th—Saturday.
29th to 31st—Thursday to Saturday.

The U. S. Signal Service will probably order hoisted the most justifiable cautionary marine storm signals for the following dates: 1st to 3d, 6th to 9th, 14th-15th, 18th-19th, 24th, 29th to 31st.

REMARKS.—The temperature will probably average below the mean of the season, both in the United States and Europe. Sun spots are expected to fluctuate considerably during this month, by rapidly appearing and disappearing at times, together with quite considerable agitation upon the sun.

Church Singers.

The concert to-morrow evening, at Court Street church, will be well worth listening to. It is to be given by the University Glee club of Madison. Regarding the recent entertainment at Whitewater, the Register, of that city, says:

The concert last Friday evening by the University Glee Club called out a fine audience in spite of the two other entertainments the same evening. A considerable number came from Fort Atkinson and other places, and we can safely say that everyone felt well rewarded for the time and trouble taken. The concert was a most satisfactory one throughout, and could be appreciated by the great primary class in music and also enjoyed by the finest blooded classicals. The richly toned voices blended in perfect melody and time, though all the chorus singing was without accompaniment.

As is usual in college club concerts there was a good share of mirth provoking business, and as one man with a keen sense of the (proprietes remarked, they demonstrated that fun can be made in a church which every one would enjoy, and no one could object to. The club were greatly pleased with their visit to Whitewater and promised to put the city on their regular list.

The Odd Fellows.

The session of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows at Waukesha yesterday, was mostly occupied in considering routine business.

Grand officers were elected as follows:

Grand Master—Henry Faville, Milwaukee.

Deputy G. Master—Geo. B. Kidder, Star Prairie.

Grand Warden—J. K. Dunn, Elroy.

Grand Secretary—L. B. Hills, Madison.

Grand Treasurer—David Adler, Milwaukee.

Grand Chaplain—The Rev. Charles Barker, Medford.

Grand Representative—J. M. Craig, Manitowoc.

In the evening the officers elected by the Rebecca convention were installed, and an invitation was received from the committee of local Odd Fellows by the ladies attending the convention, for a drive about the village. Conveyances were provided and the visitors were shown about the springs, industrial school, Fountain house grounds etc. They expressed much pleasure and satisfaction with their visit to Waukesha.

THE INSURANCE MEETING.

About half of the delegates to the Grand lodge were in attendance at the insurance meeting, the remainder being engaged in committee work or in the more pleasant pastime of visiting the springs and places of amusement about town. The insurance business transacted of interest was that relating to the rules governing membership. Heretofore only members in good standing of the Odd Fellow lodges or Rebeccas could receive insurance, but by to-day's action applications may be made by the wives and daughters of members, whether Rebeccas or not, while those brothers already insured are not compelled to keep up their membership in any lodge to continue insurance. The change is a radical one, and heretofore has been strenuously opposed. As to the effect it will have on the order, opinions vary, and many feel that it will eventually end in separating the insurance business from Odd Fellowship entirely.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 53 degrees above zero Cloudy, with northwest wind. At one o'clock p m. the register was 73 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy, with west wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 66 and 77 degrees above zero.

WASHINGTON, June 3. Signal service predictions: For Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Eastern Dakota—Slightly warmer fair weather, variable winds.

Danger!

If you have a feeling of oppression and uneasiness a little above the diaphragm, and just below the right ribs, aggraved by lying on the right side, look out! As sure as fate, your liver is disordered. Perhaps not seriously as yet, but—fatal hepatic abscesses are not uncommon. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the precise remedy to regulate the liver, and prevent its congestion and inflammation, and to disperse such minor indicia of its derangement as yellowness of the skin and ball of the eye, furred tongue, sourness of the breath, nausea on rising in the morning, dizziness, sick headache and constipation. By relaxing the bowels painlessly, it opens a channel of exit for the superfluous bile, checks a tendency to congestion and engorgement of the liver, at the same time giving a gentle impetus to its secretive action, and affords relief to the stomach, which is usually inactive, out of order and oppressed with wind when the bowels are costive. Use the Bitters also in fever and ague, rheumatism and kidney troubles.
